What is NMLS Data?

The NMLS serves as the licensing/registration agent for mortgage lenders and loan originators. The NMLS Unique Identifier is the number permanently assigned by the NMLS registry for each company, branch, and individual that maintains a single account on NMLS. The NMLS was created in accordance with the SAFE Act (Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing), enacted in 2008, which mandated a nationwide licensing and registration system for residential mortgage loan originators.

NMLS Data can be used to measure loan origination and loan activity against competition and market activity. A dataset can also be imported into a current CRM or utilize reports and/or the module to recruit leading purchase and non-purchase loan originators. NMLS Data also identifies loan originators for potential partnership and business relationships, while also working to attract new customers and new employees by highlighting success. Other benefits include:

- Finding new opportunities for greater market penetration
- Creating powerful advertising and promotional collateral
- Delivering company loan originator ranking reports to shareholders and executive boards
